Woody and Millie Ingram Guest House

More Than a Place to Rest Your Head

Penrose-St. Francis Health Foundation and our partners at HBA Cares are pleased to present plans for the Woody and Millie Ingram Guest House.

The Ingram Guest House—named in honor of the parents of Jerry and Pam Bruni—will provide a home away from home for patients undergoing treatment and their families.

Located on the St. Francis Medical Center campus, this hospitality house will create a space for rest and healing—serving the families of our most fragile patients, our NICU babies, and patients undergoing cancer treatment, among others.

Supported by Penrose-St. Francis Health Foundation's Guest House Ministry, the Ingram Guest House will support the whole person health of our guests through amenities such as private suites, home-cooked meals, a business center, playroom, and much more. In accordance with our mission to extend the healing ministry of Christ, Ingram Guest House services will be offered free of charge to our valued guests.
